

If you allow Sinclair to broadcast the anti-Kerry documentary "Stolen Honor", it seems you would be breaking the same election laws Sinclair is. Sinclair uses public airwaves and if you do not hold them accountable who will? I guess this is what happens when conglomerates get the power Sinclair has -- brazen electioneering in direct violation of the law and defiance of the FCC. Will you uphold the law on this? And what about equal time? Is it true the FCC is another branch of the Bush administration?
